

MAR 25 1966

The Gallup Poll

Rusk Wins Wide Support On Handling of His Job

PRINCETON, N.J., March 24 — Dean Rusk receives high marks from the American public for the way he has handled his job as Secretary of State. Among those persons (65 per cent) who correctly identify Rusk, about 2 in every 3 (65 per cent) give him a highly favorable (A or B) rating. Only three persons in every hundred flunk the Secretary of State.

Among Democrats, 73 per cent gave Rusk an A or B. The Republican figure was 60 per cent.

This question was asked those who correctly identified Rusk:

"What kind of marks would you give Rusk for the way he has handled his job as Secretary of State?"

Here are the findings:

A	32%
B	33
C	15
D	2
Flunk	3
No opinion	15

© 1966, American Institute of Public Opinion.